

Privacy Policy

AnAmericanAbroad.com knows that you care how information about you is used and shared, and we appreciate your trust that we will do so carefully, sensibly and with you in mind. This notice describes our privacy policy.

TYPES OF NONPUBLIC PERSONAL INFORMATION WE COLLECT

We collect non-public personal information about you that is either provided to us by you or obtained by us with your authorization.

PARTIES TO WHOM WE DISCLOSE INFORMATION

Any collected personal information that we collect will not be disclosed except as required or permitted by law. Permitted disclosures include, for instance, providing information to our employees and, in limited situations, to unrelated third parties who need to know that information to assist us in providing services to you for which you are requesting. In all such situations, we stress the confidential nature of information being shared.

PROTECTING THE CONFIDENTIALITY AND SECURITY OF CURRENT AND FORMER INFORMATION

We retain records relating to any professional services that we provide so that we are better to assist you with your professional needs and, in some cases, to comply with professional guidelines. In order to guard your non-public personal information, we maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards that comply with our professional standards. However, we cannot be held liable for information that has been taken from us illegally.

AnAmericanAbroad.com is happy to assist you should you have any questions pertaining to our privacy policies, our ethics, and our ability to be considered your trusted resource. Please email us should you have any questions, comments or suggestions.
